

ELT Group Showcases Cutting-Edge Defence Technologies at World Defense Show 2026

Strategic Growth, Localisation and Technological Innovation Highlighted in Riyadh

Riyad, 8 February 2026

ELT Group, a global leader in Electronic Defence and Electromagnetic Spectrum Operations (EMSO), proudly announces its participation in the third edition of the World Defense Show (WDS) 2026, taking place from 8 to 12 February at the Riyadh International Convention & Exhibition Center. Visitors to the event are invited to experience the forefront of defence technology at ELT Group's stand (H1-G8), where the company is presenting its latest advancements in EMSO and Electronic Warfare (EW) systems.

ELT Group is significantly strengthening its position in Saudi Arabia by fostering a robust local presence through the Subsidiary Elettronica for Industry (E4I) LLC, a Saudi local Company now fully operational. E4I focuses on providing robust logistic support, leveraging on local talent, as well as on localizing cutting edge defence solutions, tailored to the specific needs of local users, securing a long-term position in Saudi Arabia's defense ecosystem.

The Company, that will operate under the brand identity Elt Group KSA, will also focus on the business expansion of the Group in the Kingdom, creating new opportunities and consolidating the Group's strategic footprint in the Region.

This year's exhibition marks a significant milestone for ELT Group in the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia, underscored by the recent signing of several Memorandum of Understanding (MoUs) and Strategic Agreements which reinforce the company's commitment to localisation, industrial participation, and alignment with Saudi Vision 2030.

Reflecting a forward-looking, multi-domain approach, ELT Group continues to broaden the application of its core competencies in EMSO for intelligence, protection, and countermeasure purposes.

Among the innovative solutions being showcased are:

- Advanced Counter-Unmanned Aerial Systems (C-UAS) designed to safeguard critical infrastructure;
- Comprehensive land, naval, and airborne Tactical and Strategic ESM/ELINT/SIGINT and Electronic Attack systems, including the Tactical EW (TEWS) land system;
- Modular, multi-service training and operational centres for Cyber Electro-Magnetic Activities (CEMA);
- Extended capabilities in the Space domain, highlighted by SCORPIO – ELT Group’s pioneering Electronic Intelligence sensor successfully deployed in Low Earth Orbit (LEO);
- Robust cyber capabilities provided by CY4GATE, a member of the ELT Group;
- Additional multi-domain innovations supporting modern defence requirements.

Visitors to ELT’s stand can also experience the EW Naval Simulation Lab: an immersive and high-fidelity simulation centre where the naval EW operator can test his ability to analyse and identify radar threats, apply EW countermeasures to appreciate their effectiveness. It has been developed using powerful simulators capable of in-depth modelling of all aspects that characterise a complex EW naval environment. The Simulator can be visited on Monday 9 February at 14:45 or on Tuesday 10 February at 12:15 and on Wednesday 11 February at 15:00.
